Shakey Jake Oliva

Jake will perform a special stripped down acoustic blues set, away from his usual 'get-up-and-dance' band, the Blue Vibrations. Jake also owns the Melrose based company, Showtime Sound and Lighting which will be providing audio for the 2017 Four Corners Music Festival. www.shakeyjakeblues.com

The Lucky Fun

Under an Americana umbrella, The Lucky Fun cover music ranging from Old Timey, Celtic, Bluegrass, plus modern roots artists. Boston area musician, open mic host, and Melrose resident Tim Ko. joins uprooted Alaskan, Katie Delvaux for blended harmonies with back-n-forth guitar and fiddle.

Brian Nolan

Composer, songwriter, guitarist, vocal warbler, and home recording tinkerer with eclectic tastes and crooked teeth. Brian is a vital part of the lively blues/funk group, Jiblantos, who are based out of Melrose and play all around, including the 2016 Four Corners Music Festival. Nolan brings bluesy guitar work with deep cut covers and original music to his solo set at the Downtown Stroll.

Free Range Chickens

Debut performance of the Free Range Chickens. All four band members hail from local Melrose chicken coops. A pure dad band hatched by the desire to get together and jam with their kids and have fun. All applauding encouraged!

Sheila Foley, Artist

Sheila Foley is an experienced visual artist. Her current concentration, for the past seven years, is live event painting. An event artist attends weddings, parties, and other special events capturing the joy and ambience of the gathering while providing an entertainment for attendees. Sheila has been featured on WCVB-TV's Chronicle and the Boston Globe as well as in Romantic Country Magazine. She maintains a studio/workspace in Woburn where she also teaches small classes for adult learners. Sheila is Melrose Chamber of Commerce volunteer and past member who is volunteering her time and expertise during the 2017 Summer Stroll. View her portfolio here: <http://sheilafoley.carbonmade.com>
