

The 2018 Summer Stroll brought to you by the Melrose Chamber of Commerce and Presenting Sponsor LCM PLUS, with support from the City of Melrose and the Melrose Messina Fund for the Arts, will feature four areas of live music on Essex Street and Main Street in downtown Melrose.

Pedestrians will enjoy moving back and forth throughout the evening, shopping, browsing, eating and grooving to several types of music including, Jazz, Irish, Americana, Blues, Acoustic Rock, and more. Several locations will offer free babysitting so adults can mingle care-free. See our list of fun music acts for more details.

Jesse DeLaurier

Jesse DeLaurier is a young singer-songwriter from Melrose. His influences range from the Beatles to Steve Earle to Jason Isbell, but he likes performing his own songs best. Fans have described him as an old soul in a 14 year old body, his music--both fun and wise--reflects that.

Kind Of Now

"Kind of Now" is a male/female duo blending piano and guitar in adult contemporary music. With strong vocals at the forefront, Terrance Reeves and Danielle Leigh, are full of stage-inspired melodies, piano ballads, and lyrical pop. Their covers range from Alicia Keys - Paramore, John Mayer - Phil Collins.

Lech, Davis & Coyne

Tina Lech, Ted Davis and John Coyne are Melrose residents who play traditional Irish music in the Boston area.

The Lucky Fun

Under an Americana umbrella, The Lucky Fun covers music ranging from Old Timey, Celtic, Bluegrass, plus modern roots artists. Boston area musician and open mic host, Tim Ko. joins uprooted Alaskan, Katie Delvaux for blended harmonies with back-n-forth guitar and fiddle.

Sammy & Bill McQuaid

Bill McQuaid has been performing country-blues and ragtime music for several years and his albums have received radio play on local stations. He has opened for Luther Guitar Junior Johnson, Chris Smither, and Rory Block and has also performed at the Boston Blues Concert. Bill has recently been sharing the stage with his son, Sammy, a talented 10 year old singer / guitarist who likes to play The Beatles, Woody Guthrie and Chuck Berry tunes. Sammy & Bill have performed at the MAAV coffeehouse for the past four years and at the annual Parkinson's Benefit at Sally O'Briens in Somerville for the past seven years.

Shakey Jake Oliva

Jake is drawn to the raw feeling of the blues. "It's hard to put into words," Jake said. "It's very soulful' is the best way to describe it." www.shakeyjakeblues.com

Silverwood Duo

Julianne Johnston plays flute and saxophones to Barry Johnston's guitar, enjoying a range of classical and jazz styles. Julianne is a classically trained flutist with years of orchestral and small ensemble experience. Taking up jazz led her to add the alto and soprano saxes to her repertoire. Barry started in high school rock bands and now plays both classical and jazz guitar. They love playing together and perform frequently as a duo in the Boston area, and also with larger groups. <http://www.jjmusic.us/silverwood/>
